SATURDAY, APRIL 7, 1906.

The average daily circulation of the Barre Daily Times for the week ending Saturday was copies, the largest paid circulation of any daily paper in this section.

Now days as this go a long way toward making Vermont a sweet state.

The edge of the coal discussion is dulled by the rising of the temperature.

Will Dowie's salutation be "Peace unto you" when he returns to Zion City? His wife thinks not.

An emperor auto have known better than to run his machine recklessly. How does he expects his subjects to act under such an example?

The attempt to stir up interest in the Vermont governorship has thus far failed. The people are showing as much enthusiasm as a Quaker meeting.

At last the committee's report on the findings in the state penal institutions and the asylum has gone to the governor. It is said to be thorough and it ought to be.

They are again getting ready to celebrate Old Home Week in New Hampshire, and Vermont with old-homers in every state of the union is doing practically nothing. One reason for the success of the movement in New Hampshire is that the individual towns make an appropriation at each town meeting to partially defray the expenses. The amounts range from $15 to several hundred, so that the local committees have something to work on. Vermont towns in which the "old home" spirit is strong might follow the same plan.

WHAT KIND OF A DEAL WAS THIS?

Can it be true that the man who raised the $100,000 for Norwich university at Northfield, Vt., as a memorial of Admiral Dewey, was allowed by the authorities of that institution 50 per cent of the popular subscriptions thereto? Such is the statement which appears in a suit brought at New York by Amos M. Atwell against Gen. Grenville M. Dodge. Half of the $100,000 was given by Andrew Carnegie, and Mr. Atwell now asks for his 50 per cent commission upon that sum. How many of those who gave to Norwich university, as they supposed knew that they were giving half of their contribution to this agent? A statement from the trustees of the institution at Northfield, Vt., is in order.—Springfield, Mass., Republican.

It does strike one as a peculiar business deal if the trustees of Norwich really did offer Mr. Atwell half of what he collected in behalf of the institution. Such a commission is ridiculously large. Of every two dollars subscribed Mr. Atwell would receive one dollar; of every thousand dollars he would get five hundred; of every $30,000 he would draw back $25,000. There would be for the collector fifty per cent returns on no investment at all, except what comparatively little time as would be necessary. If there were ever a get-rich-quick scheme this is one. And yet the trustees are to be heard from; perhaps they will be able to explain the matter in a more satisfactory light. Certainly there will be more light on the deal if the suit of Mr. Atwell against General Grenville Dodge, president of the trustees, ever comes to trial. The deal as the newspaper reports have it, for half of the $50,000 contributed by Andrew Carnegie. It will not make so much difference to Mr. Carnegie where his money went, but the smaller contributors would undoubtedly like to know just how much went for the Dewey memorial.

A GOOD TEAM

Work and thrift make a combination hard to beat. Many people know the meaning of work who have not learned the meaning of thrift. The man who works and who has acquired the habit of thrift is the man who is getting ahead. The right thing to do is to save a part of your wages every pay day, deposit the amount in the Granite Savings Bank and Trust Company and watch the account grow in goodly proportions. A dollar will open an account, but if you can make it five you will get ahead that much faster.

GREEN MOUNTAIN BRAND SAUSAGE

Smith and Cumings' is the home of the Green Mountain Brand Pork Products, and our Green Mountain Brand Sausage is in no degree behind our other specialties in point of quality or of quantity sold. Our Sausage is not made out of all the refuse pieces of meat in the market, but every piece of meat which we put into our product must be clean, healthful—and if not so high-priced as some pieces of meat, it at least is in as good condition to be eaten.
